

Roina Baker – FULL BIO

Roina Baker began her legal career as a paralegal for a boutique commercial litigation firm in Dallas. Building on her years of legal experience and knowledge of the profession, she pursued a law degree and became a member of the inaugural class of UNT Dallas College of Law. During law school she became familiar with the work of Murchison Law and became intrigued by the legal issues and needs surrounding the pipeline industry.

Roina joined the firm in 2016 and now represents a wide range of pipeline clients, including owners and operators of hazardous liquids and gas pipeline facilities. Roina's experience encompasses regulatory compliance counseling, operations, and pipeline-related environmental matters, and she represents clients with various regulatory concerns, including compliance, jurisdictional analyses, and defense of PHMSA enforcement matters. She also works closely with clients on business and corporate matters, including contracting, commercial insurance, and cybersecurity.

Organizations

- American Bar Association--National Resources, Energy and Environment and Environmental Law Section
- State Bar of Texas--Environmental Law and Natural Resources Law Sections
- Dallas Bar Association--Energy Law and Environmental Law Sections
- Young Pipeline Professionals USA

Education

- School of Law, University of Texas, 1991, J.D.
- College of Law, University of North Texas at Dallas, 2017, J.D.
- Southern Methodist University, 2008, B.A., Political Science