

Lynn Broussard PARALEGAL

Lynn Broussard began her legal career more than 30 years ago when the president of a top Dallas corporation asked her to take on a special assignment as its in-house paralegal for a complex litigation matter. When that lengthy federal case concluded, Lynn decided to pursue a new career in the law.

During the next 11 years, Lynn worked for two highly recognized law firms as a Senior Paralegal with a primary focus on oil and gas and large construction-related matters. In 2000, Lynn launched her own consulting business, providing litigation support to a variety of clients around the nation involved in various domestic and international projects and legal cases.

Over time, Lynn became recognized for her experience as a collector, organizer, manager, and analyzer of information and records for litigation and arbitration matters, including working with sensitive and highly confidential files and records. Testifying experts in various fields relied on her research and assistance in preparing expert reports and evidentiary documentation for numerous hearings, depositions, and arbitrations, as well as state and federal court trials, and actually testifying in court on multiple occasions as an expert witness on document management.

Lynn joined what was then the Murchison Law Firm in 2018 as a paralegal and law firm administrator, offering her knowledge and skills as an organizer, planner, supervisor, detail handler, and scheduler, along with her status as an expert document and data manager, to keep the firm running smoothly.
